

Our History in Images
Early CAB meetings...

Headlines...

Over 100 attend Pittsburgh AIDS 'town meeting'

by Tom Gough

An audience of over 100 gay men and lesbians attended the third annual town meeting held at Benedum Hall auditorium, University of Pittsburgh, Sunday, September 25.

This town meeting was devoted to a discussion of Acquired Immune Deficiency Syndrome (AIDS) and featured statements from a panel of three doctors and a microbiologist, and a question-and-answer period.

Chuck Locy, of the Crossover Lounge, served as moderator for this Pittsburgh Tavern Guild-sponsored event. Dr. Bill Cohen, a private physician, spoke of his work counseling AIDS patients and their friends and families through Persad Center, Inc. Dr. Bruce Dixon, of the University of Pittsburgh and the Allegheny County Health Department (ACHD), recapped the current AIDS statistics in Allegheny County, and as he has before on the pages of Out, warned that gays are more at risk from panic than they are of AIDS.

Dr. Dixon's assistant, Bill Holder, told the assembly

Locy

Dixon

Fisher

Cohen

Rinaldo

help local AIDS patients, and asked for volunteers.

Fisher said that there is a strong correlation between seem to be greatly altered in AIDS patients, and that the levels of alpha thymos and alpha beta

Newsworthy

LOCAL, STATE, NATIONAL, INTERNATIONAL GAY

Pitt research team gets $4.3 million grant

10,000 local gay men will be sought in four-year AIDS study

by Matt Palmer

A University of Pittsburgh research team, armed with a $4.3 million federal grant, needs 10,000 gay volunteers from the tri-state area for a four-year study on AIDS.

Dr. Charles Rinaldo, of the team: University of California—Los Angeles; University of California—Berkeley; Northwestern University, Chicago; and Johns Hopkins University, Baltimore. The five awarded were among approximately 80 universities and hospitals.

PMS receives a City Council Proclamation in 2004...

Quilt pannel for our study volunteers...

PMS clinic staff...

Old friends...

©2002 - 2010

The Pitt Men's Study

The University of Pittsburgh

Questions or comments about the site?

Send to: rgy2@pitt.edu